We Are Splendidly Ready For the Holiday Season

THIS SEASON will be unique—different from any autumn and winter season in our history. We have large and well-selected stocks—though there will be a scarcity in some lines after present supplies are exhausted. We shall undoubtedly have more customers and larger volume of business than ever before, despite certain restrictions and modifications in service in the interests of CONSERVATION. The government will not permit us to have extra forces for the busy holiday season.
